

PRESSRELEASE

DUE MILJØ AS and Norcape Biotechnology AS becomes a part of Eagle Group

As of February 10th, Eagle Technology AS will acquire 100 % of the shares in DUE MILJØ AS and Norcape Biotechnology AS. With this, Eagle wants to take a strategic position in the liquid separation market for the process and food industry. Eagle has extensive experience from the maritime industry in the past (founders of Teknotherm AS and Therma Industri AS). In addition, Eagle possesses considerable expertise in the development, operation and production of membrane systems through our subsidiaries Rena Quality Group and Eagle Technology AS.

With this acquisition, current and potential customers, suppliers and partners of DUE MILJØ AS and Norcape Biotechnology AS will have advantages of:

- A strong technical environment in the form of design engineers, process engineers and chemical engineers.
- Substantial financial resources.
- Increased focus on research and development.
- Own production facilities.

We are a company that are driven by values of environmental care and energy savings. We want to take a position in the process and food industry, where we develop better and more sustainable solutions that will create added value for customers and end users in relation to the utilization of raw materials, says CEO in Eagle Technology AS Roy Moberg.

The companies will have their business address and administration in Halden. In addition, it will be established a professional technical competence center in Stavanger.
